

Entry to $100 Drawings for Male Smokers in Research Study

Males are needed for a research study to examine the body's ability to exercise in the heat.

The study is seeking: 40 males who are smokers or non-smokers; 18-59 years old; no chronic illness or injury, not taking any medications altering fluid balance.

You will receive: Upon completion of the study, participants will receive an entry to 10 drawings of $100 each (~25% chance of winning) and a free body composition and bone density scan (i.e. DXA).

This study will involve two visits to the Human Performance Laboratory (approximately 5 hours total); experimental testing involves one visit to cycle in a hot environment for 60 min.
